

THE GOP'S IRAQ REBELLION • MEN IN DRAG, AGAIN

Newsweek

July 23, 2007

newsweek.com

This Man Was Dead.

He Isn't Anymore.

How Science Is Bringing More Heart-Attack Victims Back To Life

DRINKS

SUMMER SIPPING

JUST IN TIME FOR SUMMER, some new products are reinventing the "G" and the "T" in the G&T. The new gins ease up on juniper, the berry that gives the booze its evergreen flavor. Tanqueray Rangpur ($23.99 for 750ml) leans heavily on the Rangpur Indian lime. The liqueurlike G'Vine Gin de France ($38) uses the green grape flower for an herbal twist. Stellar ($19.99) has the mild personality of an orangey vitamin water.

The new tonics are lighter and softer. Stirrings ($4.99 for a four-pack) gets an easy sweetness from cane sugar, as does the fuller-tasting Fever-Tree ($5.99). The driest of the bunch, Q Tonic ($9.99), uses agave syrup. All are tasty—and dangerously drinkable.

—RON GIVENS